I am hoping that someone will read this and not think negative of me or my family. I am a grandma that is helping to raise my grandson and granddaughter and my own 8 year old daughter. My paycheck makes the bills and that is about the extent of it. I am hoping that someone would be my children's angel and assist with school supplies and just even a couple outfits for school. I know how cruel children can be and just can't see it in my budget. The children are very ok with thrift store clothing, I would just like to surprise them with a couple NEW outfits.

Thank you so much and God
