  We need to get something from New Hampshire (Londonderry) to the Seattle area. We just bought a van with an extra passenger seat and we need to get it home. It's dimensions are 56 inches by 35 inches by 24 inches and it weighs about 150 pounds. We looked into shipping it but it's waaay too expensive. We will pay for its safe transport within the next 2 to 6 weeks. We can be flexible but we need to find someone to do this within the next few days. Can you help?
