I am selling 2 Yamaha NS10 studio monitors, these are the original ns10's, not the sideways ones with the different tweeter. You might see some for cheap on eBay shipping from Japan, but they charge expensive shipping, and then tax/customs/import whatever, and who knows if they are real or made the same?

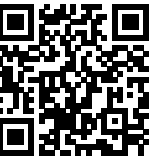

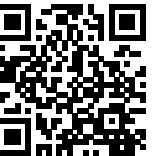

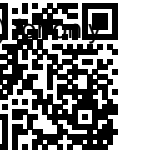

Here is a pair on ebay in NY when are the later sideways ones not the original, and has lots of chips, for $714 (marked down from $1100): <http://www.ebay.com/itm/Pair-of-Yamaha-NS-10M-NS10M-Speakers-Monitors-Black-Wood-Finish-Serialized-Set-/252045994341?hash=item3aaf1ca965>

Asking $680. Make me an offer! The mesh grills for the front of the speakers (pictured) are included, while i never used them, they are just an aded bonus.

Both speakers work perfectly! The tweeters and woofers are in great shape, and the front panels of the enclosures are in good condition (corners have minor wear, and there is a scratch on one of them: see pictures). You can see the cosmetic wear and tear from the pictures. All problems are COSMETIC!

NOTE: both speakers are left speakers, but work perfectly fine as a pair.

Asking $680 for the pair. Please no low-ball offers, I am not just someone reselling something, these are currently in use in my studio, and I know how desired and rare they are and why.
