Kyra is her name. She's 11 years old and a purebred Asian Bengal domestic cat. She's great with people and kids (she'll let someone pull her tail and she just sits down and purrs). She was staying with my mom but she was too aggressive with my mother's other cat. For being so nice, she does NOT play well with other animals for whatever reason. I've had her for about a month but I have a roommate with a dog and she's always in my room or the basement and it's not appropriate quality of life for her. Until I have my own place (which is indefinite) I need someone to love and care for Kyra. Please contact me if you're this person(s). :) shoot me a text, i have plenty of beautiful pictures of!
