Miss the90s grunge scene?starting up a grunge band called ringtail.me drummer.experimenting with electronic drums.(taylor swift American idol wannabes need not apply)seeking bassist.as for music.think Mudhoney.queens of the stone age.alice in chains.foo fighters.nirvana.hole.garbage.sound garden.pearl jam.L7.interest in rock.metal.blues even jazz is cool .van Halen.queensryche.dream theater.joan jett.the list goes on..i could keep naming bands..you get the picture.please be clear headed(not always high or wasted)because eventually I do wanna get paying gigs.be real about the music.committed and serious.but also have a sense of humor and have fun with it as well because this isn't going to be just some kind of hobby.we are going to get to the point where we are a working band.be an active musician(for example..not standing in one spot the whole time)we want to give a crowd a good show.please have own Instruments.it's been a while since I played in bands so this is a huge project.there's gotta be some grunge musicians left. Thanks for.
