Happy Monday. I am looking for woman who are interested in the modeling industry. Although a tough industry to break into, how you start and the pictures you start with will tell quite a bit about who you are.

I would be happy to help. Professional photographer, with a portfolio to prove it. I have been out of the industry for a few years focusing on other professions, but I am looking to get back into it. I still have several useful connections, and we can discuss if any of them would be a fit for you.

You-North Dallas, under 35, willing to be on camera, and looking for great pictures/videos to use in the future. PLEASE reply with stats, any current pictures you have, and what type of modeling you are looking to get into.

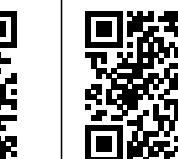

Looking to do this today-Friday. Very serious, and willing to pay depending on how extensive the set is. We can talk on the phone to discuss your.
