The revolutionary winter radial tire. The Arctic Alpin is highly engineered for extreme winter weather conditions. Designed to provide the same confidence on ice and snow as one would get from riding on Michelin tires the rest of the year.

Patented torque-locking zig-zag sipes provide nearly 55 meters of flexible, snow-grabbing edges per tire, yet interlock for rigidity when high torque is applied, delivering firmer control on high-traction surfaces. New, high-compliance tread rubber compound remains flexible at lower temperatures for greater grip and better handling on ice.

Stiffer shoulder belt package provides better control.

Tougher bead construction helps withstand the demands of seasonal mounting and dismounting.

Stress equilibrium casing equalizes pressure throughout the contact patch to promote longer wear.

Innovative high-contact tread design and expanded contact patch to put more high-compliance tread rubber on the road for greater traction and control on ice and hard packed snow, plus a remarkable quieter ride.

Circumferential arrowhead grooves continuously trap and eject snow and slush for reduces tread packing and greater traction.
