Due to his job, our current drummer had to leave our band. This is the perfect opportunity for the right drummer to step right into a fully functioning, hard-working and established band.

We have recorded over 8 tracks in the studio, have four more ready to record and several that are being finished. We have an air-conditioned, 24-hour practice studio all to ourselves. Professional sound gear, instruments, amps and lighting.

We play shows regularly

We appreciate contributions from everyone. We would love a drummer that can give us input on composition, dynamics, phrasing and structure.

Some of us drink and some of us smoke pot, but we don't let it distract us from handling business. We would love to share a beer or a bowl with you after a great show, but if you don't partake then we are also totally fine with that.

We are not fine with tweakers or meth addicts (trust us, everyone can tell)

We, like most musicians, are essentially looking for a person with these three attributes: Dedication, Talent and Likeability

We are dedicated and we usually practice, two weekend nights and one weekend day per week. You can judge our talent by giving some of our recordings a listen at <http://www.reverbNation.com/upandgomusic>. If those sound good then you can judge our likeability by coming into the studio for an audition and see where it goes from.
