2000 Toyota Solara for sale, no longer need this car. Recently had brakes and radiator replaced (less than a month ago) All 4 tires are less than a year old so they have good tread on them. Car drives smooth with no problems. Only small issue is the check engine light. It's been up for a while but the mechanic told me its for a sensor which I didn't have replaced. About 137,700 miles on the car. The dent on the bumper was from one of the snow storms we've had, fog light went out.
