Hey there!

Our blended family has two little boys, both six, and we are looking for an occasional sitter (some date nights, day dates, errands, etc.) it would be as needed and not a full time position but we'd like to have someone reliable, trustworthy, patient, playful, and good with boys.

We'd be willing to drop them off to you or you to come to us.

This would be a great position for college or high school students, stay at home moms or anyone in the childcare field looking to Make extra money after work.

Please reply with pricing, babysitting/childcare history (or resume), and interests.
