Are you a Colorado student at a college or university with a medical marijuana prescription ("red card" or "purple card") willing to speak confidentially about marijuana policies on your campus and your experiences with being an MMJ prescription holder? Please participate in this interview project!

This is a research project on the experiences of MMJ prescription holders who are students on college and university campus in how they interact with campus policies and reactions of others about their prescription.

We are Mark Plassmeyer, MSW and Shanna K. Kattari, M.Ed, and are students pursuing doctoral degrees in social work at the Graduate School of Social Work at the University of Denver in Denver, CO.

Criteria for participating in the project are:

1. You must have a current medical marijuana prescription issued by the state of Colorado.
2. You must be age 18 or older, and a student at a college or university in Colorado.
3. You must speak/understand English with intermediate or advanced fluency (ASL interpreter available upon request).

Participation consists of an approximately 45-90 minute interview at a location that is convenient for you or over the phone. Participation will be confidential, and your responses will be confidential as well.

For more information or to participate in the project, please contact us at shanna.kattari @ du.edu.

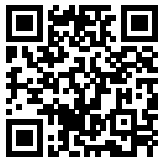

If you would like to verify that this study (IRB #771302-1) has been approved, you can contact the Institutional Review Board at the University of Denver at or.
