I created this journal give parents and childcare providers a unique way to share information about a child on a daily basis. Drop off times and pick up times can be the busiest times at childcare. These journals are colorful with 65 bound pages which cover a full year if a child attends 5 days a week. The cost per journal is $24.00 which when broken down is about 45 cents per week. This would give accurate communication between parents and their child's caretaker. There is a parent section and a provider section for each day.
