Hi! I own a local retail car dealership and I am looking for someone to accompany me to Florida to pickup a car and drive back to Minnesota.

I'd fly you down there and we'd drive back. We can also take a couple days down there if desired, you can do your own thing or we can kick back on South Beach for a day, we'll have wheels to explore the area. I am very familiar with Florida especially Miami.

I'm paying for your flight, accommodations and cash to boot. I can give you a couple hundred bucks however you will have to pay for your own food.

We would be flying into Fort Lauderdale and picking up a late model BMW and driving back to Minnesota.

You will need to be pleasant to get along with, and have a driver's license as well as good vision. I will want you to help me drive.

I am flexible when we leave but it must be soon within a week.

First person who seems decent I will consider the gig fulfilled.

If you are interested in this gig please contact me and we'll make arrangements, we can certainly meet up ahead of time to touch base.

Email me your contact info and name and I'll get back to you ASAP.

Thank!
