Our women oriented online magazine is looking for a smart, frugal, culinary voice. We're a start-up playing the "how fast can you scale game" which means we're into taking risks & working way too hard for a shot at a dream. We don't care about your age, your background or your experience. Can you write? Do you have a voice? Send us 500 words on any of the following topics:

5 foods you probably don't eat but should Smart spices
a 10 minute meal plan
What are the best vegetables?
I love food. Where should I live?
The only cookware you need
Teflon, non-stick and why your grandmother used cast-iron

Please send your writing sample/article as a response to this CL ad. This is a close-knit, hands on project, if selected be prepared to become a functioning member of the team. Best guidance: Believe in what you.
