Are you looking to get out of your direct sales business???
 Do you have a little or alot of inventory left over???
 Feel free to email me or text me and i might buy you out...

ive randomly had a few people offer there inventory to me to get out of the biz and it worked out well for the both of us so figured i'd see if anyone else out there wants to do the same...

Pure romance... 31... jam berry... scentsy...younique... pampered chef... you get the idea...

Now ofcourse if you want to get out and i want to be able to sell it there has to be a pretty decent chance for profit for me and fair amount for you to feel comfortable getting out...

So the best way to do it is by email first... email me what you have and what you believe the retail value is.. and what you would be willing to sell it all for... also a list of everything you have would be helpful... i know more about some of the companies then i do others... i've sold alot of pure romance and jamberry but the others not as much... also when i say buy you out i want everything from samples to office supplies etc your more then welcome to text also with your list and what your looking for etc...

I will say this if your looking to get over 50% of the retail value its probably not worth either of our time... but if your willing to sell for under 50% retail value feel free to email or text...
