We're a research firm for several top international companies since 2005. We are now looking for applicants who can help us with basic data entry.

Our services help top companies improve their products and services for the general public. Research studies can pay anywhere between $12/hr - $25/hr. Pay is dependent on your ability to work efficiently in helping us collect accurate data.

No experience necessary although we ask that you do have basic computer skills in place, as this work requires basic data entry. You can choose to be paid via PayPal or company check.
