Need an illustrator? Children's character design/illustration is my favorite type of work. :) I live near Springfield, MA, and have provided illustrations for local (MA) and national companies, including character development. You can view my work at www.iltisdel.com. (Feel free to browse the different categories! I can work with a variety of styles!)

In 1999, I was selected as the grand prize winner in an international contest (children's comic strip). The prize was a year's study. I have also had illustrations published in Amazing Kids, JJ Express, Night Lights and Pillow Fights, Death Decor for Halloween (book), and Stories for Children. Currently, I color Guy Gilchrist's popular "Today's Dogg" comic strips. My first illustrated graphic novel (written by Karen M. Bryson), Puggie Liddell, was recently released by Zeta Publishing. Other clients include self published authors and graphics for a national environmental website, a diet product website, and developing a line of educational characters.

Generally, I work with Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator or copic marker watercolor /paint.

I'd be happy to help with your next project! Rates are negotiable!
