Do you have shows coming up for that you need to provide your own sound for, but don't own a system? Or are you throwing an event and need to provide sound for the band playing?

I'm an experienced live sound engineer and musician that wants to make you sound your best! If you're needing live sound on a budget, shoot me an email, I'd be happy to work with you.

Using state of the art equipment, there is no need for an ugly long snake to be used, or area in front of the stage for mixing. My equipment uses wireless technology to allow me to create and modify your mix from anywhere in the room, making for the best possible mix.

Is this system going to bring down arenas? No, but it will provide high quality sound for small to medium sized shows (under about 400 people). If you need larger shows covered, let me know, I have connections to gear and can get you hooked up.

Rates are extremely affordable, and I'm here to make sure you're happy and sound your best. Shoot me an email for a!
