I have a unique opportunity for a female room-mate to live near the WHC.

I am a graduate on a tight budget, and very easy and a cool person to live with. My roommate just moved out so the place is available now. If we have the same interests as I do and you don't have a problem sharing a room or dorm like dwelling with me to save money and for other benefits with a cool and respectful guy, my place would be an ideal living arrangement for a short period of time, say 3 months. Plus, you would be close to a popular attraction, the West Hartford Center. The shared room would include all necessities, utilities, laundry, kitchen, bathroom, Internet/cable, and off street parking. I am goal oriented and just looking for a single female who is open-minded, easy going, and can co-exist in my space of a three family home, for a little while. Place is available to checkout by appointment this week.

IF INTERESTED:

In your reply, please tell me a little about you and the reason why you are trying to relocate. If you have a photo to share that would be great, but also include your contact information. I look forward to meeting!
