I'm an experienced country and bluegrass fiddler available for recording sessions in the greater Boston area. I'm a graduate of Berklee College of Music, where I received a degree in Violin Performance and I have a lot of experience in the studio as well as on stage. My playing is versatile and I work with modern country artists, traditional bluegrass bands, singer songwriters in the Americana genre and everything in between. I am fast and efficient in the studio and am equally comfortable improvising on songs, writing my own parts ahead of time or playing written parts.

Here a few videos that feature my fiddling:
