So here's the deal. I got my hunters license thinking I would be going all the time and I never got into it or had anyone to go with. I've shot the bow twice in the a few years I've owned it. Under 50 arrows shot I would say. It comes with a matching quiver tru glow sights and a case. It's been well maintained indoors and in a case. $350 for everything (includeing a few arrows and target) carbon force arrows. I bought everything new for around 500.
