Being a Photographer and a Digital Artist for the past decade has taught me a lot about creating high-quality images but few of them are fierce. I have now have the proficiency necessary, thanks to Tyra and America's Next Top Model, to create some amazing images utilizing Make-up, Hairstyling, Wardrobe and Post Processing Magic. All I need now are women interested in creating exceptional imagery. I understand now that Outstanding Editorial photos are about what's inside not about just being pretty. To that, experience is not necessary but the drive to create a fierce portfolio is. This is NOT commercial modeling! Most say they want fierce but really only want Commercial. So if you're not looking for more commercial photos and would like more details on this glorious opportunity to get hundreds of mesmerizing professional photos, please reply with the information below and a photo.
