I'm looking to rehome my male chinchilla. I just started school and won't have the time to give him the attention he deserves. He's about 2 years old, gray, and extremely friendly, never bitten anyone. He would be a great pet for a kid because he's great with being handled and loves to have time to come out of the cage and play. I'm just looking for someone who either has the time to devote to him, or has another chin he could play with. He comes with a large super pet cage, his pet carrier, his hiding hut, water bottle, dust bath, cooling rock, wheel, food, and chew blocks. All you'll need is some bedding! I can send pictures through my email if you'd like to see him before meeting him. You can come pick him up, or I can drive him to you. $250 for all of it (sorry, he does need to go with the cage regardless of whether or not you need it, I don't have space to keep it without him in it).!
