Hello Software engineers!
We are Polycarbon games!

We are a dedicated team with products ready to hit the market. Our combined team experience gives us a unique blend of technical prowess and artistic insight.

We are bootstrap indie game studio based in Hayward, Ca.

We cannot offer any pay upfront but we will offer royalties, revenue share, and equity.

We are a group of game design enthusiasts working on the next big match puzzle game.

We have 70% of the code already in place. We just need help with the other 30%

Death Blocks is a board game that is designed to be intense and competitive. It is a match 3 puzzle game similar to connect four but with a twist. This will be available on iOS and Android with cross-platform play.

You can play against your friends and family across multiple mobile devices and platforms. We will hold weekly online tournaments implemented through a world ranking system with results posted weekly.

Death Blocks is designed to be a table top digital game playable anywhere at any time. If you're a fan of word games or at home with your friends Death Blocks is the next social game for anyone.
