The truth about "Canadian Social Security"

Dear Reader,

We recently released the results of a six-month investigation into a growing trend here in America...

In short, a savvy group of Americans have figured out a way to legally piggyback "Canadian Social Security."

And these folks are now collecting monthly "benefit" checks from $400 to $4,700 as a result.

For example, Sara Yaeger -- a secretary from Texas -- is now collecting $2,900 per month in "benefits"... And Carol Alderman, a widow with two children, averages more than $1,200 in "benefits." (You can click here to see more incredible stories.)

So what is "Canadian Social Security"?

It's an "old age" benefit program just like we have here in the states... only (from what we've discovered), it's far superior.

For example, While the U.S. social security program is set to be bankrupt by 2032, funding for the Canadian program is set to QUADUPLE by the year 2032. Just look at the numbers...

But here's the kicker...

What's discovered is that you don't need to live, work or even visit Canada to begin receiving "benefits" by piggybacking the program.

And you can collect thousands of additional retirement income without affecting your regular U.S. Social Security benefits!
