I don't want to part ways with the vehicle, but I am willing to entertain serious offers. Car runs and drives very well, no real issues. I have previously owned a manual is300 and was skeptical at first, but this has proven to be very pleasurable. No lag, faster in a straight line, but it has steering mount shifters to select gears if you so choose. Running basemap tune of 8psi, putting down around 325whp (turbo setup is good for 500+whp). Full SRT turbo kit ($7k MSRP) plus transmission mods. One of the only kits on the market that can still pass emissions. Vehicles is also equipped with coilovers, and SRT sprag/valve body upgrade.

Has a/c, heat, power steering, etc. Exterior is in fairly good shape for it's age. There are some dings and dents, to be expected with a 14+ year old vehicle. Interior is in pretty good shape, seats are clean. Has an aftermarket alarm as well as a double DIN head unit. Suspension feels good, fender liners sometimes rub on wheels, but big time. The tires are in good shape. Starts with no issues, there are a few scratches to the body, but they are not deep. The car is in good shape, and I am willing to entertain serious offers. I am not a professional, but I am doing my best to describe the car. Check out the current listing on the sensor. This is a good car, and I am willing to entertain serious offers.
