If you are interested in having a discussion and sharing ideas/views about the current system you should email. Topics could be about book talks, science, technology, education, engineering, inventions, war, religion, politics, the system, human behavior, the music industry, really anything that's effecting our lives. I do not know much about these topics, this is why I'm posting this, I want to see what others have got to say. I want see like minded people for once. These talks are not just for fun, they are for understanding, I think we will have a good time. I'll set up a place where we could meet, this could be a library, park, or restaurant. It just really.
