I am a mature, experienced, and caring teacher and tutor for grades K to 8th grade. I taught many years for private school, and I presently teach for the School District of Philadelphia. My husband, and I also home schooled our daughter for 12 years under the guidelines from the School District of Philadelphia. Her high school average was 97. My associate tutors high school subjects and teaches at a University including Spanish, French, ESL, various writing preparation for high school and college plus preparation for SAT. If you are looking for someone who would want to bring your child on or above level, call the tutor at
 I prefer a phone call rather than an email and a text. If I do not answer my cell, just leave a clear message, and I will return your call. I check my messages on a regular.
