Free to GOOD home...5 kittens...born the best I can figure on July 11th.

They are litter box trained, eating solid dry kitten food, and my mama cat has been starting to ween them for about a week now.

There is one Orange/White stripped female, two Grey/Black stripped one male and one female, and two Black/White (unsure yet about male or female because they're so similar in coloring I loose track of which one was checked and these little things are fast)
