Hello, last night my cat, Posha, was shut outside by accident. She has never left my stoop before and I am in a bit of a panic to get her back. She didn't have her collar on and is friendly with strangers. If picked up she will cry and try to bite. She does have her claws, but doesn't like to use them in attacks. ? Please, please let me know if anyone has or has seen her!! My son and I both cried this morning and are hopeful of her.
