I am looking for a baby sitter for 4 nights per week(Wednesday, Thursday, Friday & Saturday) to care for my three kids(ages 7,8 & 9) while I work(8pm-4am). My preference is a middle aged to an older woman who is looking to supplement her income or earn some extra money for a small job. The caregiver should be a woman with kids herself as well as some babysitting experience. She should love children. I'd prefer a woman with the same values as myself (ie. Christian). I would prefer her to be CPR certified in case of an emergency.

The caregivers responsibility would be to arrive at my home at 8pm each night(Wed-Sat), prepare or cook a not so extravagant kids friendly meal for my 3 kids each night(I will have it out already), make sure they wash their hands and face, then have them say their night time prayers & put them to bed. I will already have them bathed and in their pajamas. I would need for the caregiver to stay overnight while my kids sleep checking on them periodically and I will be back in at 4am before they awake the following morning. My children are very well mannered and well behaved so she shouldn't expect to have any trouble. The job will be pretty laid back and is perfect for someone in school as it gives plenty of study time. I would not want her to have any guests in or outside of my home during these care-giving hours.

This job pays 100.00 per week so i'd prefer someone who lives in the Winter garden/Ocoee areas so as not to spend allot on gas and time driving.

If you feel you're a good fit for this position please reply to this post with a resume and describe what makes you a good candidate. I will respond to everyone that applies and will interview those that i feel are good candidates. You may also call me at Please leave a voicemail message if I don't answer.

Kindest Regards,
