Will be rehoming 5 half blue Manx kittens. The father is a full blooded blue Manx and the mother is a calico. Both parents are on site. There is one black male (no tail), one grey and white male (no tail), one black and white male (with tail), one tortoise colored female (with tale), and one calico female (with tale). There are only two without tales, so read the ad! They will not be ready for about two weeks, they are still weaning and litter training. They are rare breed kittens. I care for these kittens. My family and I hold them and love them everyday. I insist on a good home for them. Thank you for taking time to read my.
