We are a machine shop that specializes in toolmaking for use in FAA approved repair stations. We can design and machine the tools and test stands needed for repairs at a fraction of the cost of OEM tooling.

In most cases, our tools are easier to use than OEM for your mechanics, saving them time and you money.

We have over 200 different tools already designed and being used in the aviation industry. We have a database of engineering drawings for many tools used for pumps, motors, cabin accessories, constant speed drives, and many more.
