Hi I'm a cat lover and have many many cats. However I have 1 Big boy that needs help. He's extremely overweight and needs a diet. With having so many cats it's impossible for me to put him on a diet. Right now I've had to lock him up. I hate the thought of giving him away because he's a big Ole teddy kitty. But I don't want him to die being so fat.

If you want a good big boy. I would prefer someone with no cats or maybe 1 other one. He does get along with all my cats but he's been raised since 4 weeks with them. He may need a vet visit just for help with a good diet.

I would also like to be fb friends so I can see pics of him. But this is your choice. I love him and this is really hard. But I need to do what's best.

His names Spikey he's 4 yrs old born June 24th 2011. He loves to snuggle. He's been indoors for the last few years because he doesn't move much. Lol. But he does love to lay in the windows. He's not a talker so he won't bother you. Please if your a lover of cats and can get him healthy I would really appreciate your.
