A new "wine & paint" studio in Chicago is looking to work with talented independent art instructors for our evening and weekend classes. Our studio, will provide a fun environment where our customer can be creative, socialize and have fun. Our classes are geared towards someone who has never painted before; therefore we are "light" on the instruction. We are looking for artistically inclined instructors who can transfer their knowledge to our customers. As the instructor of the evening you will be responsible to facilitate a casual and relaxed art experience. Responsible to guide an audience through an acrylic painting class. The ideal candidate should have the following qualifications and skills: Working knowledge and a good grasp of acrylic painting, color theory and different painting techniques. Good social and interpersonal skills helps. Good communication skills are a must. Prior experience teaching art to adults and children not required. This is not a traditional art class this is FUN ART not FINE ART! All independent artist are required to build a gallery.

Each art session will require around 4 hours of commitment, which includes prep, teaching and clean up.

Interested applicants, please provide:

â€¢ Current resume, salary requirements, and a short paragraph on why you would be a good candidate (no more than 300 words). This is a part-time job. Must be available nights and or weekends.
