I Got this pair of saddle bags i just do not use,Somebody may as well use them, So with that said im letting them go for less than half of what they cost. They are not leather but they look like they are. But this material is much lighter, More water proof and it really does look good.These are large bags big enough for a short case in each one.They also have the rain flap under the main flap for the extra protection.anyway a steal at 60
