Hi there, my name is Desiree and I'm looking for a place that feels more like home rather than a place where I'm just another renter. I'm an easy going respectful room mate and looking for the same. Looking for a place where I'm allowed and others are allowed to be an adult and have guests, and overnight guests as long as it's done respectfully.

I'm in my early twenties, I work full time as a professional courier throughout the bay area Monday through Friday 8am-7pm. I moved here for a better life, so I am fairly new to the area still. I consider myself to be a very easy going laid back roomie, I don't mind washing somebody's dish or two (with no hard feelings or resentment lol) when I'm in the sink washing my own. I enjoy my privacy as well as respect other peoples privacy too but also like to be social.

After work I usually like to come home take off my socks (I hate socks), cook a quick meal, watch some tv and go to sleep around 10 to 1030pm. I am currently in a long term relationship and my significant other stays one or two nights per week and I stay with him at his place a few nights per week. A little more about me I'm quite friendly to my roomies & their guests, good sense of humor, I'm quite, I'm definitely clean, respectful, pay my bills on time always, considerate of others, non smoker, no drug use, have no pets and don't mind my room mates business as long as they are respectful about it. I welcome open communication and never would want my roommates or I to feel uncomfortable, I like to acknowledge problems and solve them. I am looking for somewhere close as possible to Sunnyvale but am open to all areas no further south than South San Jose though! And rent being around 500-600 utilities included. I'm in no rush, and I definitely have time to find the right place.

I can't work in Mountain View/Sunnyvale area and also not allowed. I have had 3 other jobs where I was off I liked to spend time with my significant other, a place, try new restaurants, flea markets with my mother, hang out with friends for lunch/dinner, watch new movies, watch football, watching animal documentaries, horror films, go for a run, visit my family (a 2 hour drive down south), discover new things to do and sometimes actually work when I feel like going extra hard on the money! I love to meet up with anybody who feels I'd fit perfectly into the home and would like to find a great place to live.

The picture is of me and my mother.
