Hello,

We are a new girl group currently looking for an investor to invest in our success. There hasn't been a great girl group for the past seven years and music is not changing for the better. We are trying to make a new revolution of music and prove that girls groups can stay together for a long time. We are very hard working, dedicated to our craft, and a united sister hood. We are not looking for a manager or producer but a investor. We know its going to take time and hard work and dedication, but we need someone to believe in us enough as much as we do to help us become a great success and accomplish our.
