I originally bought this coffeemaker because we did not have one at work. Well, a week after I bought it our department finally got one. I already had one at home, so it has just been sitting on my cabinets since. It was only used about 5 times, and has no coffee staining or water deposits at all. This maker is as close to "new" as "like new" gets.

I am willing to meet the buyer at a location convenient for them. Cash only.
