Hi, I am in dire need of a place to live until I can get back on my feet. I am currently unemployed, seeking a professional job. My last one was in the Mortgage industry which is my specialty. I have also done PCA work on the side for extra income. I am currently couch hopping with friends but it's not the same as a regular bed and one does medical care for three men in her home and the state license people told her I have to go (too many people in the house). I can help out around the house/apt with daily chores and am a good cook. Also if you need errands taken care of I can do that as well. If you can help me out it would be greatly appreciated. Thank
