Up to date with shots, scheduled to get Neutured later this Month...

he's so Loving. crate trained. friendly. cute ass hell.

it PAINS Me to Even be Posting this but sadly I think he deserves a better home because I just got a new job and won't be able to take care of him any longer. I refuse to leave him in the cage all day , so if you a busy person please don't reply. Mylo (his name) deserves the best best best home! he's pure breed and healthy. 6 months.. if you are interested in having him breed with a female I will not have his balls chopped. Sorry for the way that came out but yeah I got him for $950 and that was without shots. So I got all his shots and willing to settle for
