Dear parents,

The school year is almost upon us -- are your kids prepared to tackle new subjects, teachers, and tests? Summer is an imperative time to begin getting prepared and building a solid framework for the next school year.

SAT, GMAT, GRE, ACT, GED, ISEE, SHSAT, REGENTS, ALGEBRA, GEOMETRY, TRIGONOMETRY, STATISTICS, ISEE, SSAT

Here are a few ideas to help your children spend their summer efficiently, while still allowing time for fun and relaxation

• Catch up to speed from where they left off last year. Many will forget the material they learned last month, let alone two months ago. This will not only help keep them in the learning mindset, but will also ensure they don't fall behind when school starts by spending time getting into gear. Once your children fall behind, it is very difficult to help them catch up.

• Lay a framework for the next school year. Get them ahead of the understanding of the most important concepts, you will have a better understanding of the concepts, you will have a better understanding of the concepts, you will have a better understanding of the concepts.

• High school students who are preparing for college entrance exams and preparing for the summer. Get ready for the upcoming year. Help them prepare for the upcoming year. This will help them more effectively focus on the summer, get more out of the summer.

• Most importantly, constantly increasing knowledge, learning, and understanding is an investment into your child's future. They will be better prepared, have a stronger work ethic, and understand the importance of hard work in achieving their goals. I can be reached at
