Dear parents,

The school year is almost upon us -- are your kids prepared to tackle new subjects, teachers, and tests? Summer is an imperative time to begin getting prepared and building a solid framework for the next school year.

SAT, GMAT, GRE, ACT, GED, ISEE, SHSAT, REGENTS, ALGEBRA, GEOMETRY, TRIGONOMETRY, STATISTICS, ISEE, SSAT

Here are a few ideas to help your children spend their summer efficiently, while still allowing time for fun and relaxation

• Catch up to speed from where they left off last year. Many will forget the material they learned last month, let alone two months ago. This will not only help keep them in the learning mindset, but will also ensure they don't fall behind when school starts by spending time getting into gear. Once your children fall behind, it is very difficult to help them catch up.

• Lay a firm track for the next school year. Read ahead to gain understanding of new topics. If you have a good understanding of the topics, you will be better prepared for success.

• High school students will need to prepare for the SATs and ACTs. Using the summer to get ready for these exams will help take the pressure off during the school year. This will allow them more time to focus in class, do more homework, and get better grades.

• Most importantly, constantly increasing knowledge, learning, and understanding is an investment into your child's future. They will be better prepared, have a stronger work ethic, and understand the importance of hard work in achieving their goals. I can be reached at
