Are you a business manager who spends way too much time producing end-of-month reports? Are you an analyst who copies data from different sources trying to put together the weekly Excel report or PowerPoint presentation?

Do you find that you are duplicating the data entry of others? Or perhaps you are spending hours converting a text file into a spreadsheet, or re-typing data from a printed report into an Access database. How many times have you said to yourself, "There has got to be a better way!"?

There is. I have helped many managers in your position. With over 20 years experience with Microsoft Office programs and Visual Basic for Applications programming, I am an expert in developing business applications for better information management. By creating custom business tools, featuring user-friendly forms with results at the click of a button, I can automate any number of tasks for you:

- * Bring text files into Excel or Access to produce lists of open orders, shipments due, or inventory on hand.
- * Transfer Excel field reports to the home office database.
- * Automate reconciliation of vendor billing spreadsheets with home office records.
- * Transfer Excel charts and data to PowerPoint.

I guarantee to make your data management life easier by reducing tedious and duplicating tasks. Please reply to the email link above, and start re-claiming your valuable time.
