Hello! I'm a local web designer looking to BARTER for landscape services (sprinkler install, lawn seeding, trees, gravel, recycled asphalt, concrete, etc...) and/or cabinetry for our new home in Middleton.

You can view my business website at: orioledesigns.net. I'm a real local business with many happy clients and a portfolio you can view. I design using the powerful Wordpress platform which is very SEO friendly and user-friendly. My clients like the ease with which they can take charge of their site once I get it up and running. All sites are also responsive for mobile devises (did you know Google now dings your rating if your site isn't mobile responsive?).

What do I offer over these other designers?

I offer much more than just web design, I offer experienced: Web design, digital marketing, competitive analysis all wrapped up into one. Choose me and you will have the best chance at long term success. There is a reason I own the name: Dayton Web Design and that reason is because I was one of the first to offer my web design services to the public. This means I have many years of long term web design skills. Instead of me throwing out technical terms to show you how much I know and how great of websites I can build for you, just look at my client portfolio. I have clients instead of customers because we work together to give you the site you envision.

Most successful unique websites take approximately 30 - 80 hours to build and tweak. Plus multiple meetings and a joint collaboration to make it perfect. Do you think you are going to end up with the same website if you evaluate your designer by the lowest price? If you were to pay $500 do you think this person is going to give you 30 - 80 hours to make sure your site is great? You will be lucky if this person who charges this puts 8 hours into your site. Don't end up with a useless website from a one trick pony. Increase your web design budget to a reasonable amount and you will likely get paid back with a much better return on your investment. Better websites with more time invested convert more business and pay for themselves over and over.
