We are a cabling company that wires up all commercial type buildings, new construction and existing. Looking for a freelance contractor to submit bids on projects where low voltage is involved. I don't have anyone in my office full time so I would like to sub out this work. This person needs to have experience in bidding and familiar with the bidding process. I can help you out with understanding low voltage but don't have time to teach the whole process of how to submit bids correctly from beginning to end. Reply with information and experience. Thank.
