 I'm wanting to start a group of individuals that want to both improve their personal life and do something better for the community. I'm looking for individuals that are interested in keeping order in the community and preventing this hogwash violence I see post-bar shut down. Also a group that would like to get together to learn tactics and otherwise be a social group. I know that this might take a bit, but I'm not a stranger to the things I speak about.

 If you're interested in a social group that would like to help others and grow please e-mail me.

 Thank you for your
