Hi,

I'm looking for someone to help me with a Christmas gift this year. I need an artist who is able to paint on glass. The images I have in mind for the glasses are detailed so I will be looking to work with someone who has the skill level similar to what's shown in the photos.

I would prefer to work with an art student, as I know odd jobs can be helpful around this time of year. But if you think you could help me, I am more than happy to hear from you. I would cover all material costs, of course, and you will be compensated.
