I'm rehoming my seven year old Persian. The person I got her from a few years ago failed to mention that she doesn't care for kids or other animals but we've tried to make her comfortable here. She runs from the kids and spends most of her day under my bed. Recently I've been having issues with allergies and I'm sick too often so I now have no choice but to rehome her. She needs a home where there are no children living in the home and no other cats or dogs. Other than that she is a sweet cat and will come up to you when she wants attention. She is spayed and previous owner declawed her. Utd on shots except rabies. Rehoming fee of $50. If you're serious about adopting her please text me information on yourself, as I will not let her go to just.
