Hoping there will be a kind soul who will turn in my lost wallet. Either I dropped it or someone lifted my little black Henri Bendel wallet (credit card size) on the afternoon of Friday, Oct. 30.

I was the victim of an apartment fire 3 weeks ago, and while the cards have been turned off and can't be used and I don't count on ever seeing again the $60 I had in it, getting my ID back would prevent a lot of heartache this coming week as my insurance company moves me from a motel room to a temporary apartment.

I was on the #17 bus going from downtown to NE Portland, so it could have been lost/stolen from either downtown or on the bus. The wallet was very distinctive - I'll be able to describe it if you've found it.

I don't have much to offer in a reward (still recovering from the apartment fire), but I'll try to figure something out. Please email if you find this little wallet. I'll do my best to make sure you're on the good side of luck/karma for many years to come. Thank!
